DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

With respect to claim 1, the preamble is drawn to a fall restraint system, but in line 13, the applicant recites that the “restraint system comprises”. It appears that lines 2-12 are drawn to the ladder system. If so, then it is suggested that lines 2-12 be drawn to the ladder system, and in line 13 the applicant that the “restraint system further comprises”.

With respect to claim2, lines 1-2, only one restraint section has been recited. It is suggested that the applicant recite “each” or “one of the plurality of restraint section”.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claim 1 would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: the inclusion of an elongate restraint component having end portions positioned between the cage element and the rail element, rail and cage connecting components that mechanically attaching the restraint component to the rail and cage elements, respectively. The prior art of record fails to teach or suggest the claimed features absent the applicant's own disclosure.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Ray #3,106,986 is cited to teach a ladder cage assembly.
